

FREE

Play&Learn

Challenge your child with engaging activities that help them learn, grow, and thrive.

What is Play&Learn?

Research shows that parents and caregivers have an important role in supporting early child development, this can be done through play! Play&Learn provides a variety of expert-reviewed activities that support a child's growth. Most Play&Learn activities can be completed in less than 15 minutes and require little equipment to get started. Activities focus on improving skills in one of four developmental domains:

Thinking & Learning

Social & Emotional

Movement

Language

How does Play&Learn work?

Our collection of expert-reviewed activities has been chosen to be of benefit for one of three age groups: toddlers (1.5 to 2.5 years); preschoolers (over 2.5 years to 4 years); and kindergarteners (over 4 years to 6 years).

Suggestions are provided to make the activities easier or more challenging depending on a child's unique capabilities. Most importantly, Play&Learn makes playtime fun for everyone – a little bit of play goes a long way!

Get started at playandlearn.healthhq.ca

@HealthHQ_
@HealthHQ.ca

