Attendance Tips for Parents and Guardians

At Sudbury Catholic Schools, every student matters, every student belongs, and every day offers opportunities to learn, connect and grow. Families can help support regular attendance by:

- Building routines: Keep consistent bedtimes and morning routines. Prepare lunches, clothing and backpacks the night before.
- Listening with care: Ask how your child feels about school. Listen to their concerns and remind them they don't have to face challenges alone.
- Encouraging attendance: Talk about the value of being at school, including friendships, learning and activities they enjoy.
- Connecting early: If attendance becomes difficult, reach out to your child's teacher or principal so you can work together to address barriers.
- Making a plan together: Identify a caring adult at school and agree on supports that help your child feel safe, welcome and ready to learn.
- Celebrating progress: Recognize your child's efforts and the steps they take toward attending regularly.

You're not alone. If your child is having difficulty attending school, please connect with your school team. Together, we can help.
